RE: WEEK-END COLLEGE CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

We had a bit of a problem on Friday evening, February 14, 1975.

I was giving the G.E.D. tests as scheduled and the students were holding a dance in the cafeteria.

- a) The noise from the "music" was so loud that it distracted the 65 plus persons writing.
- b) Dance participants pounded on the windows of the classroom and office as they walked past.
- c) One person, while looking for chairs, wandered around building (3) three carrying and drinking beer.

If we are going to use the campus for classes on the week-ends it will be necessary to very carefully co-ordinate events.

The noise level was so high that no class where discussion was required could have been held.

I am sure that if any of the persons writing on Friday are not successful, they are going to feel that, in part, it was caused by the poor testing environment.

For most of those writing it was their first exposure to the College and seeing a student wandering around drinking beer, probably wasn't the best P.R.

Re: Pub Night - February 14, 1975

It appears that the security at your weekend pubs is slacking again in that a number of people from the dance seriously compromised a group of students who were writing General Educational Development tests in the 4-room complex. At least one person was seen to be carrying beer through unlicensed buildings on campus.

I don't want to come on as unduly critical, but you must remember that our agreement states "adequate supervision" if pubs are to be held on campus. If it turns out that it is impossible to give this kind of supervision, the safest thing for both of us would be for you to start holding the pubs off campus.

Please let me know what your thoughts are on this problem, as we must find a solution to it before any further evening classes are disrupted.
